

California Ranch News

Tulare county's 1927 crop report will show an increase over the previous year, in the opinion of A. E. Miot, secretary of the Tulare County Board of Trade, who is now engaged in compilation of the annual data.

Ed. Pratt, cattleman of the Porterville district, recently sold a choice car of steers in San Francisco for $11.75 per hundred, according to reports. The average weight of the steers was about 1100 pounds. A good steady mark has been maintained by the cattle market this year and cattle shipped from the Porterville district have brought good prices.

The agricultural extension service has just completed a survey of the persimmon industry in Orange county. A census was taken of all plantings as to age, acreage and varieties. Cultural practices of the growers were also investigated and summarized. The survey revealed a total of 537 acres of persimmons, classified in three age groups, as follows: 392 acres, 1 to 4 years; 89 acres, 5 to 8 years; 64 acres, to years and over.

Designed to provide rigid inspection of all meats or meat products disposed of in Tulare county, the Tulare county supervisors have adopted a county-wide meat inspection ordinance. Dr. George Gordon, in charge of the State department dealing with inspection of meats and meat products, was present at a meeting of the supervisors to explain provisions of the ordinance and lead the discussion in its favor. Representatives of the cattle industry and slaughter house interests of the county were also present. This ordinance is virtually the same as those now in effect in a number of California counties and cities.

With the idea of utilizing the supply of low-grade raisins and making available a feed for pork producers, experiments to prove the value of cull raisins as a feed for swine are being carried out by the division of animal husbandry, University of California. Four such feeding tests have been completed, and the results are published in Bulletin 440, written by Prof. E. H. Hughes. "The results of the last trial indicate that a ration of raisins and tankage on alfalfa pasture was not altogether satisfactory," says Prof. Hughes. The addition of raisins and rice bran to a barley and tankage ration, on alfalfa pasture, would be a satisfactory practice."

The first cars of the 1928 orange crop of the Covina district were packed last week by the Covina Citrus Association, the fruit is Washington Navel and Thompsons. The Covina Orange Growers expect to begin packing this week. Tests for sugar content show the fruit to meet the requirements prescribed by law. The navel crop, it is estimated, will be normal in this vicinity, but the Valencia crop will be lighter than that of last year.

Declaring that extensive rice planting in Imperial Valley would overtax the irrigation canals and result in waterlogged lands, Engineer M. J. Dowd of the Imperial Irrigation District, speaking before the Associated Chambers of Commerce at Imperial last week, deplored the campaign now being conducted to bring the rice industry to this district. Dowd admitted that rice culture would improve some of the alkali lands in the valley, but asserted that the crop would do more harm than good in areas where there is poor drainage. As an added argument against rice planting in Imperial Valley, he pointed out that pending the erection of a storage dam in the upper Colorado River the valley has no excess supply of water during August and September and that the heavy demands of extensive rice acreage might result in a shortage of irrigation water.

The grain crop of the past year in Siskiyou county surpassed all previous years, and the acreage now being sown shows the growing demand for the cereal production for that county. Montague, Siskiyou county, itself uses a large amount of the grain in its splendid flouring mill, sending out big shipments to various markets. Mining in Siskiyou county is not so brisk as in bygone days, yet upward of $600,000 in minerals were taken from the quartz and gravel mines the past year, and some of the companies are increasing their equipment for 1928.

News of Interest to All

The Tehama county Board of Supervisors last week agreed to provide $25,000, to be matched by $75,000 in Federal funds, in constructing a highway which will open up the Lassen Volcanic National Park, it was announced by Bert B. Meeks, State director of public works.

California's deaths from automobile crashes are mounting. This is shown in figures compiled by the department of vital statistics of the State board of health. Complete reports for the first nine months of 1927 shows the motor car had snuffed out 1,224 lives before October 1. This exceeds by seventy-eight the nine-month total for 1926, which set a record for fatalities, and is greater than the deaths for the entire year of 1922.

The First National Research Society of America was formed last week at Los Angeles with the announcement that it will "conduct an international inquiry into the wholesale tobacco poisoning of infants born to and nursed at the breasts of cigarette smoking mothers." This alleged "poisoning," the society declared in submitting incorporation papers from Los Angeles to the Secretary of State, "is believed to be increasing in prevalence with the universal addiction of women to cigarettes."

S. H. Kress and Company, national merchandising corporation, acting through Attorney Sylvester J. McAtee of San Francisco, last week purchased the Hornlein Building at Eighth and K streets, Sacramento from Mrs. Max Hornlein of Sacramento for $300,000. The announcement of the transaction indicated the Kress Company contemplates erection of a large store on the site upon expiration of present leases.

Award of a contract to the Shell Oil company of California for approximately 300,000 barrels of fuel oil needed at California's several hospitals, prisons and corrective schools during the calendar year, was announced recently by State Purchasing Agent McMillin. The oil will be distributed to the institutions for 98 cents a barrel at the shipping points, a price 6 cents below the prevailing market. The State also is assured that it will benefit from any decrease. The city council of Martinez, county seat of Contra Costa county, is willing that Martinez be classed in the San Francisco metropolitan area, but they wish it understood that their city is resigning none of its rights as an individual corporation, its members announced at Martinez last week. Permission to include Martinez in the metropolitan area was sought recently during compilation of population figures. Martinez has a population of about 8,000.

A reduction of $14,000,000 in California's annual forest fire losses during the past thirty-seven years, due directly to the development of an adequate patrol system, is claimed by Fred G. Stevenot, State director of natural resources, and State Forester M. B. Pratt in a report to Governor C. C. Young. The two State officials delve into dusty tomes to unearth the first report of a State forestry board back in 1890, when the State's patrol system consisted of a few rangers employed to "post fire notices." In that year, the report shows, California's fire losses are estimated at $15,000,000.

Authorizations of $252,323,193 in public utility securities during 1927 by the California Railroad Commission in the form of stocks, bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness, exceeds the total of any other year by nearly $100,000,000, Leon O. Whitwell, president of the commission, reports. That the commission is exercising a real and vital supervision over all public utility security issues for which its sanction is sought, is proved, Whitwell points out, by the fact that since the commission's organization it has denied applications to issue $109,580,580, and dismissed applications to issue $116,557,541 in addition.

The first automobile tire produced from rubber grown in the United States is on display at Salinas this week in the office of the Salinas Chamber of Commerce. All the rubber used in the tire was extracted from Guayule shrubs grown in California by the American Rubber Products, Inc., which maintains its experimental laboratories and nearly 2,000 acres of land near Salinas. More than 800 acres of the shrubs have been planted, and enough seedlings to plant 2,200 more acres are available. Present plans of the company call for planting of thousands of additional acres in various parts of the State. Officials say that the rubber can be produced cheaper in California than on the huge plantations of the company in Sumatra.

WILL CONNECT SKYLINE ROAD SAY SURVEYOR

County Surveyor and Engineer Robert Chandler is now working on plans for the new highway from Saratoga up to the summit where it will connect with the Skyline Boulevard, which is to be completed under the new distribution of road funds by the State highway commission. Chandler has been working on the plans for two months, and it will take several weeks more to finish them.

Chandler figures that it will cost the county about $150,000 to put this section of roads in shape for traffic, but it will be worth every dollar.

"It won't be a concrete road," said Chandler last night, "we are going to use a lot of this Saratoga rock, which the county has a mine of and when it is packed down, it makes a good road. Concrete may be laid later. It is unfortunate we can't start on the road now when travel is light, but we will have to do the best we can. Now that the Skyline is to be finished, we want to do our share and build the connecting link as soon as we can."

"We will be able to use some of the old road, but not all. There will be some pretty big fills and cuts. Some property owners have protested because we have run the road through their land, but we can't please everybody, for if we did we would have no road."

Sportsmen Will Meet At Santa Cruz

SANTA CRUZ, Jan. 18.—The annual convention of the Associated Sportsmen's Clubs of California, to be held in Santa Cruz, with headquarters at the Casa del Rey and sessions in the auditorium at the beach, in the fall of this year, promises to be the largest attended of any in the history of the organization. Committees of the Santa Cruz Rod and Gun Club have been appointed and the 128 Sportsmen's Clubs in the association, with thousands of members, will be solicited through attractive literature to attend the convence.

Trustee Howes Hurt

F. L. Howes of Union avenue and member of the board of trustees of the C. U. H. S., was injured last Saturday evening immediately after the entertainment at the auditorium. He was knocked down by an automobile starting out from the parking line and, although not seriously injured, was quite severely bruised. He is resting quite comfortably at his home and his friends are extending congratulations upon his narrow escape.

Mr. J. W. Whisenant of Los Gatos, as speaker at Kiwanis' luncheon, gave a very graphic picture of his trip with the American Legion conventioners.

J. H. CAMPBELL CHAIRMAN FEB. 22

Our good fellow-townsmen, Henry Campbell, born here over 76 years ago, has been appointed Chairman of the day for Old Settlers Celebration, February 22. Henry has been one of the ever faithful helpers in the growth and progress of our community and he prefers to remain unsung for his part, but after being lassoed, hog-tied and branded as "C" property, he consented to do this much more.

Committees are working out plans for one of the biggest celebrations yet held in this town beginning with the band concert in the morning, and ending with the evening show in the auditorium. The evening program is already well under way.

NEW CLASSES AT HIGH SCHOOL

Classes in dressmaking and millinery will be started again at Campbell Union High School on January 30. These classes will meet from 2 to 4 p. m. in the home economics department.

Dressmaking will be taught on Monday and Wednesday afternoons, beginning Tuesday, January 30. Millinery will be taught on Tuesday and Friday afternoons, beginning Tuesday, January 31. Mrs. Roberts, who so successfully taught these classes last fall, will again have charge of the work.

Classes have already been organized in basketry and shop work. These classes meet on Wednesday evening at 7:30.

Further information concerning any of these classes may be had by telephoning to the high school office.

The call is issued for more voices in the Choral Society, which meets Thursday evenings. Mr. Edwards, director, is well pleased with the performance of the society this far, but wishes to enlarge the ensemble to about 50 voices. Members are urged to bring their singer friends.

10 Per Cent Cut In Electricity

The State railroad commission started something this week at San Francisco. Just when it was getting ready to review the prices of gas and electric companies were charging their consumers, the companies' legal representatives announced that the cost of electricity would be reduced 10 per cent. This was a voluntary reduction. The price of gas however, was to remain as it is.

Whether the railroad commission will accept this reduction in the cost of electricity without continuing the investigation to a finish remains to be seen. It is hinted the commission will not accept the companies' proposition which might have been a gesture to call the commission off.

LOCAL CAGERS PLAY PALLY HERE

The athletic representatives of Campbell High School will entertain the Palo Alto basketball teams tonight in the local gym. The teams are scheduled to line up at 8 o'clock for the lightweight contest.

These games are of decided importance to the Campbell cagers, for if they come out on the long end of the score it will mean that they are chief contender for the championship.

This writing finds the 130-team from Campbell tied for first place with the other three teams of their division, each team having won one game and lost one. The Campbellites have the edge on the opponents, however, as they have shown remarkable improvement over their mediocre early season form.

The unlimiteds are battling for second honor, having tied with San Jose for that position. The Campbell heavyweights have been rounding into shape also and it would be no great surprise if Coach Noddin's outfit was victorious.

Last week both Campbell teams were triumphant, having trimmed Sequoia, 17 to 16 in the lightweights and 27 to 8 in the unlimited class.

A large crowd is expected to attend so get your tickets early. The admission will be 25 cents for adults.

CLUB STUDIES PROPERTY RIGHTS

One of the pleasant features of the Country Woman's Club meeting Monday was the reading of the acknowledgment of the gift made for Christmas cheer for the veterans at the Palo Alto hospital. Interesting reports were given and other business transacted.

Mrs. Laura Foster was chairman of the program with "Laws for Women" as the subject. She introduced Mr. Edwin A. Wilcox of San Jose, who gave a most interesting and instructive talk. After a preliminary statement regarding all laws and the mass of statutory legislation, he confined his discussion to laws respecting property rights and disposal of property. He stressed the advantage of making a will and leaving one's possessions, whether they be many or few, as one wishes and also save a great deal of trouble for those left behind. "America, the Beautiful," was sung by the company with Mrs. F. V. Perrott at the piano, and in closing, Mrs. B. F. Toll gave two readings, Edgar Guest's "A Heap of Livin'" and James Whitcomb Riley's "That Old Sweetheart of Mine."

Remember the afternoon of cards to be sponsored by the Country Woman's Club on Friday, February 10. Reservations of those who wish to entertain their own group may be made with the chairman, Mrs. L. J. Carboni or any member of her committee—Mrs. E. I. Price, Mrs. D. H. Cramer or Mrs. G. W. Page. Progressive whist will be provided for those preferring. Tickets 50 cents.

Aged Lady Found

Mrs. Lydia Moulton, who has been failing for some time, wandered away from the house last Friday afternoon and was lost for some time. Several neighbors started immediate search through the neighboring orchards and just after she had been found, several boy scouts, who had joined the search, improvised a stretcher with some tree props and coats and she was taken to the house. After being well warmed and rested, she appeared to have suffered no ill effects and was about as usual the following day.

STUDENT SHOW PROVES BIG HIT

The Campbell Scout-Campfire band benefit show was a notable success both from the standpoint of production and finance. Several of the auditors were heard to remark that it was too bad to limit that program to one production.

Just before the program the curtain was raised and different lights were thrown on the beautiful back scenery painted by our local artist, Francis Harvey Cutting. The scene was a composite of the Monterey cypress and rocky crags of the Carmel cliffs which elicited much applause and many complimentary remarks. This, with another cemetery scene from Mr. Cutting's brush was set off by the stage work of W. E. Whitney.

A number of the Lone Scouts gave a good exhibition of tumbling on the gym mats, showing considerable progress in their stunts in the short time they have worked on the mats. The Scouts and Cubs sang several songs in a manner never before equalled by a similar group of boys in this community. Much credit is due Miss Adele Grandeman who taught and directed this lively boys' chorus that made such a hit with the townspeople.

A sea-scout group gave some very effective naval signalling. This group is fitting a boat for use on San Francisco bay.

The Campfire, under the direction and instruction of their guardians, gave the "Feast of the Red Corn," a very pretty Indian story of the finding of the red ear by the grieving queen in answer to her wish.

A short play, written by J. A. Cutting, was enacted by a group of eight boys and girls in a very creditable manner.

P. T. A. HEARS TALK ON CHILD

"The Underprivileged Child" was the theme of an interesting talk given by Dr. Clarke Saunders to the Parent-Teacher Association of the Campbell Union High School last evening. The newsboy on the street, fighting his own way, is not the "underprivileged child," though he does miss the association with cultured people for he at least gains a certain sturdy independence, closely associated with character. The "underprivileged child" is the child of parents who could make a home for him and do not. Occupying the same house with them, he yet knows no home, but too often suffers spiritual isolation. Father, with his club, and mother, with her bridge, leave the child too much adrift. He picks up any entertainment, and even the hours that he lives under the parental roof may be training him in the ways he should not go. Dr. Saunders accused most of us of giving our children the first lessons in deceitfulness by asking their assistance in carry out our own deceptions, falsely considered necessary to our well-being.

The Evening School orchestra made its first appearance before the Parent-Teachers' Association. This organization, under the efficient direction of Mr. F. E. Carey, has been practicing faithfully for some time. They presented several pleasing numbers.

ABERNATHY TO SPEAK

Frank Abernathy is the speaker at the Chamber of Commerce annual banquet this evening. Dinner will be served promptly at 6:30 by the P. T. A. of the school and a short program will be given. Plan to be on time that they may finish in time for the basketball game which follows. The diners are limited to 125 so if you are going secure your tickets at once.

Sonoma Coast Road Open all Year, Plan

The Jenner-Mendocino highway along the Sonoma County coast has been gravelled during 1927 between Fort Ross and Jenner, a distance of eight miles and the Sonoma county Board of Supervisors plan to keep this section open all winter if possible.

The newly improved section is a side-hill road, in some places 600 feet above the beach line, and is difficult of maintenance owing to the nature of the side-hills.

Common Sense Ruling

The State railroad commission made a ruling recently, which deserves favorable mention. It ruled that public service corporations blowing in money for election or propaganda purposes must, when making out their expense accounts on which their rates are based, specify how much money went for election purposes. In times past, it is known that public service corporations have paid their propaganda expenses or election expenses, which ever you please to call them, out of the income, collected from the common people. In other words, anytime the common people have opposed any issue advanced by the public service corporations' "munitions of war" were paid by the clients of said corporations. Now was this fair and just. Under the new ruling, the Public service corporations will not be allowed to incorporate such expenses in the overhead, which is as it should be.

Weekly Paper Best Read

Our State printer, Carroll Smith, who is a practical newspaper man, when he isn't managing California's printshop, uttered some truths the other day in an address, which we submit to our readers for what they are worth. It is hoped the State printer's remarks receive the consideration due them. Speaking of the weekly paper, Smith asserted this:

"The weekly newspaper," he said, "is read from cover to cover. It carries news about people the readers know, about situations they appreciate from personal contact. And every advertiser knows, if he checks his results, that the weekly paper brings greater results for each unit of circulation than the average daily.

How true this is. Any newspaperman, who has had both daily and weekly experience, knows that his weekly issue is "checked up" more closely by his readers. The readers of the weekly even call attention to the pesky typographical errors. And the reason is not hard to find. How much of a daily paper is read anyhow? Very little. Readers merely skim over the headlines, get most of their attention. While the weekly, as Smith says, is read from cover to cover, advertisements and all. And do you know that there are 457 weeklies published in California as opposed to 144 dailies. So the influence of the former is not easy to measure.

CORONER'S VERDICT IS MURDER IN TEVIS' RANCHER'S EXAMINATION

Death resulted from hemorrhage produced by gunshot wounds in the face—shots fired by party or parties unknown; murder. Such was the verdict of a coroner's jury that investigated the death of Abundo Florina, whose body with the face shot away was found lying on the floor of a cabin at the Dr. Harry Tevis ranch above Los Gatos on January 2, by A. Albano, a fellow ranch worker.

Testimony by Dr. E. M. Miller, Deputy Sheriff E. A. Raymond, and Fred Bather, foreman of the ranch, pointed to the fact that Florina was murdered.

Rifle Found

Deputy Raymond said that the body was found lying just inside the cabin, and on the porch was the victim's 30-30 rifle containing two shells, one of which was blood-stained as if inserted by a bloody hand, after the first shot or shots had been fired.

Dr. Miller said that an autopsy revealed that there were no powder marks, as far as could be discovered, about the body. The presence of powder burns would have meant that the gun had been fired at close range, a conclusion that would have led to the presumption of suicide.

FRIEND NOT IMPLICATED

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Luchs, employed on the Tevis ranch, recalled that they had heard three shots the night of the murder and of hearing what they supposed to be a man's voice coming from the direction of the shooting. The couple said that they paid no heed to the shots, however, because the ranch employees often practiced target shooting.

It is believed that the suicide of Charles Marchetti, a friend of Florina, in a North Market street hotel, at San Jose, January 5, had no bearing on the case. The inquest was conducted by Coroner Amos O. Williams at the Place Funeral Parlor, Los Gatos. The verdict was signed by Edward L. Chase, E. E. Wagner, R. C. Fowler, Bert Main, T. T. Belknap, J. M. Graves, W. S. White, David Mathews and G. D. Curtis.

Ancient Norwegian Church

Norway celebrated its 900 years of Christianity on the little island of Moster on the southwestern coast where stands the oldest church in the country. Things Worth Protecting

More than eighty million dollars in gold is consumed annually in the United States in the manufacture of jewelry. Another large sum is spent on imported jewelry. There are occasions when ornaments of precious metals cannot be safely or conveniently worn, and at such times the simplest way to avoid their loss is to put them in a safe deposit box. Grammar Notes

The high eighth grade had their paper drive last week and in the short time which they could spare for it they made $29.

The boys basketball team played several games lately. They will be sending some good players to the high school in February as many of the team are in the graduating class. Mr. Pugh has done some fine work with them.

Graduation will come on Feb. 2 and everybody is very busy studying for the finals.

Yet another local libel, says the Manchester Guardian: "How is it," the big tobaccoist asked the manager of his Aberdeen branch, "that you can sell so few cork-tipped cigarettes?" "Weel," his manager replied, "folks here dinna like the taste of coarrk burnin'."

COOLIDGE THANKS SANTA CRUZ FOR 1928 FLOWERS

SANTA CRUZ, Janu. 18.—Letters have been received from President Calvin Coolidge, Governor C. C. Young, Mrs. Elizabeth Burbank, widow of the late Luther Burbank, and from many others to whom large boxes of flowers were sent on New Year's Day from the fifth annual flower show.

President Coolidge acknowledged greetings from the people of Santa Cruz and also the beautiful flowers sent by air mail, and expressed his appreciation to his friends in Santa Cruz for the remembrances.

Governor Young wrote: "Mrs. Young and I wish to thank you for the bouquet of flowers you were good enough to send us from your fifth annual New Year's Flower Show. This bouquet was especially interesting on account of the large number of varieties of flowers, which composed it. We appreciated this, not only on account of the beauty of the flowers, but especially because of the generous good will which prompted you to send it to us."

W. B. Hobson Dies

Wm. B. Hobson, a veteran of the Civil War, aged 92 years, passed away last week in San Jose and funeral services were held Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Hobson was a native of Iowa and a member of the Masonic order in that State. He made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Belle Z. Dosh, who has spent several canning seasons in Campbell and is well known by many of our number.

Cats on Duty in Capitol

Not the least important among the many employees that keep the government machinery running, are "Mary" and "Dirty," two cats that patrol the basement and other parts of the capitol in Washington to keep it free from mice, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. Both waifs, and befriended by attaches of the building, the cats have proved their usefulness and are now enrolled on the capitol watch.

Plan State Golf Links

Farming experiments undertaken by the British government in Windsor Great forest having failed, golf is to supplant crop raising there. Windsor Great forest, which was cleared during the World war, is to be the first state golf venture in Britain, although many municipalities have tried the idea with success. Two 18-hole courses are to be laid out in connection with a building development plan.

Substitute for Tin

The scarcity of tin has led to the discovery of a substitute that may revolutionize the canning industry. Black plate, lacquered and welded together electrically and not with solder, has been found to be a highly satisfactory substitute.

Frenchmen Proud of Feat of Engineering

When President Doumergue went from Marseilles to open the new canal tunnel which joins the great port to the Rhone he found a dark hole in the mountainside with a tiny spot of light in the middle.

The hole was 70 feet wide and 50 feet high, and the spot of light was five miles away! Think how straight the tunnel must be to show that spot in the middle! Frenchmen claim that it is the biggest tunnel in the world. It is not half the length of either of the two tunnels of the Simplon, but it is so much broader and deeper that twice as much rock had to be removed as from both the Simplon tunnels.

In this Rove canal tunnel six railway trains could run abreast, and two barges of 1,500 tons can pass at any point in it. The canal is over 12 feet deep at low time. The tunnel connects Marseilles with the great lagoon called the Etang de Berre, and the canal then passes on to join the Rhone at Arles, so connecting with the whole European canal system.

GOLD DIGGER

He—Miss Passe is quite a gold-digger.

She—Yes. She must have got her start in the gold rush of 1849.

The Road Was Out

When an Irvington resident moved to the north side recently, the family decided to retain a faithful and efficient colored maid that had served it for years. The morning after the tornado the maid was tardy. Because of its rarity this was an event, and the woman herself realized that some explanation was surely due.

"Sorry, Missy," she exclaimed as she hurried into the kitchen. "Sorry but that there tornado blew down so much I had to veto three miles to get here."—Indianapolis Star.

Ring Long Hidden

Lost half a century ago, a wedding ring belonging to Mrs. Reuben Hains, former resident of Beverly, N. J., was found by Mrs. Howard Warrick while preparing her garden. The ring bears the inscription, "Reuben to Hattie." Older residents remembered that Mrs. Hains, who formerly occupied the Warrick home, lost her ring in 1876, shortly after her marriage. Word of the recovery was sent to her in California. The flower bed in which the ring was discovered had been raked over and planted every year for years.

Wouldn't Have to Worry

It was at the farmers' institute. The speaker was giving an interesting lecture on the benefits of minerals when used as part of a balanced ration. "In order to make a growthy animal," said he, "We must supply plenty of lime." "Sonny," to a small boy in the front row, "What should we do when we need more bone?"

"Say, Mister," said the small boy, "I guess you don't deal with our butcher."—Exchange.

Fewer Dutch Windmills

More than 45 per cent of the windmills in Holland have been removed or demolished since 1923, according to a report from an official mill association in that country. About four years ago, there were 3,604 mills, but since then the number has decreased by 1,626.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Quotations from Hall of Fame

"The newspaper taken as a whole is most compelling and brilliant and deservedly successful phenomenon in modern literature."

— Arnold Bennett.

"Extraordinary interviews with me are like pictures by Rembrandt; they sell so well that a considerable trade in forgeries has sprung up."

— George Bernrad Shaw.

"If we all did just what we had to do, the best of this world's work would never be done."

Roy L. Smith.

"Futurist pictures are the sort of pictures that could be painted by anybody except an artist."

— Sir Frank Dicksee.

"In this epoch, nobody has time to do nothing."

— Paul Dukas.

"We have always held very strongly to the theory that in our country, at least, more could be accomplished for human welfare through the encouragement of private initiative than through Government action. We have sought to establish a system under which the people would control the Government and not the Government control the people. If economic freedom vanishes, political freedom becomes nothing but a shadow."

— Calvin Coolidge.

It's all right for the maids and matrons of California to strive for that "evette-like lissomeness," but they're foolish if they fall for the "fads and fallacies of reducing." That's the gist of a claim made last week by M. E. Jaffa, chief of the State bureau of foods and drugs, in an attack on "obesity cures" often tried out with serious results, he said, by "women who imagine they weight too much." Seven among the "most prominent fads and fallacies in nutrition" were listed by the State health official as follows: The vitamin fad, the bread fad, the reducing fad, the sour milk fad, the vegetarian fad, the bran and roughage fad and the no meat fad.

Charles G. Dunwoody, prominent in the campaign for conservation of California forests, left last week for Washington, D. C., where he will urge Congress to meet the forestry needs of the State. California forestry leaders are asking that Congress appropriate funds for immediate work on the State forest experiment station, for maintenance of Lassen Volcanic National Park, and for war on the white pine beetle.

C. E. McLaughlin of Sacramento, former appellate judge and a leader in administration of California penitentiary affairs for many years was reappointed by Governor C. C. Young last week for a six-year term on the State board of prison directors. This was reliably reported in capitol political circles where it was said that the governor's policy will be to maintain control of the two State prisons in the hands of men who are fully experienced in the government of penal institutions.

Reporting that only twenty-seven banks have been found in a financial condition warranting suspension during the last eighteen and a half years, Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Banks, declared last week that California occupies a "position of preeminence in the field of sound banking." The value of the total resources of the twenty-seven suspended banks was given as $11,270,521.14, and the total capital investment was announced as $2,359,869.30.

Just a little over two weeks remains for California motorists to comply with the State law and secure new license plates for 1928. Renewal registration closes at midnight January 31, warns George S. Grant, manager of the California State Automobile Association license issuance service, in a statement issued last week. The law requires that those who have not secured their plates during the time allowed must pay double the usual fee, making the passenger car owner pay $6 instead of $3.

California's method of legal execution by hanging is far from costly, officials at San Quentin declared last week. It is one of the things that has become less expensive with the passage of years. A fee of $25, paid to the hangman, is the chief item. In years past he received $50, which he shared with guards on the death watch. The State pays $2.50 for the hemp noose, a new one being used for each execution after being stretched for months. Interment in the prison cemetery entails an expense of $2.50 for a coffin made in the furniture factory, which is not necessary if the body is claimed by relatives.

One hundred school teachers and school executives will come to California about the middle of March for a month's tour. This was announced at Mexico City by Dr. C. N. Thomas of San Jose, Calif. Dr. Thomas is director general of the International Council for Educational Progress. Dr. Thomas went to Mexico to invite the Mexican department of education to send a party of Mexican teachers to California as guests of groups of California educators. The purpose of the tour is to cultivate friendship between Mexico and the United States.

MOUNTAIN APPLES — From Peak Farm; Red Hoovers, 75c and $1.00 a Box. Ralph Herring, Winchester road, Mission Hatchery, Campbell.

Opening of a new diagnostic center at Palo Alto, Calif., was announced last week by the Veterans' Bureau at Washington. Like the ones at Cincinnati and Mt. Alto, Washington, the Palo Alto hospital will be manned by highly specialized medical officers.

Two records were established by the monoplane Spirit of California in its recent endurance flight, at San Francisco, even though it failed in its attempt for a new sustained flight record, according to assertions made by Frank Flynn, superintendent of Mills Airport at San Francisco. Flynn reported to the Board of Supervisors that the plane has established a new mark for sustained flight among ships of its type and that it has carried aloft the heaviest useful load ever lifted by heavier-than-air craft.

Both cities and states are falling into line in the movement for adoption of uniform traffic laws and regulations, reports the California State Automobile Association which is sponsoring the uniform code for California cities in the northern and central part of the state. The Automobile Club of Southern California is leading this movement in the south and a total of fifty-three cities in the state now have the standardized code of regulations in effect.

California's most prominent realtor, Governor C. C. Young, will be the guest of honor of the San Francisco Real Estate Board, January 24, at the first luncheon meeting of the local organization in the new year. The meeting will be held in the concert room of the Palace Hotel. Alexander R. Heron, chairman of the State Board of Control, will also appear on the program along with Governor Young as one of the speakers of the day. Charles E. Street Jr. is chairman of arrangements.

The largest and best crop of deciduous fruit in the history of the industry was shipped from California last year by the California Fruit Exchange, according to a report from Los Angeles. The annual report of J. L. Nagle, general manager of the exchange, at its twenty-seventh annual meeting held last week brings out this and other interesting information. The meeting was attended by 750 growers from all parts of the State. Nagle's report, which was the leading feature of the meeting showed that the exchange did a gross business of $2,000,000 over the gross business of 1926. This revenue came from the marketing of 12,226 cars of deciduous fruits, all of which went to domestic and Canadian markets with the exception of 250 cars which went to Cuba, South America, Manila, India and the Orient.

More than $300,000 was realized by fruit and grain ranchers in Beaumont township during the past season, according to the annual report of horticultural inspector J. E. Liddle. The cherry crop, estimated at 500 tons, produced the greatest revenue, with a value of $70,000. Grain, hay, apples, pears and grapes were other heavy revenue producers for the district. Mr. Liddle's crop report for the San Geronio Pass district for 1927 shows a total of 16,375 acres under cultivation, and 928 nonbearing acres.

Several new uses for prunes have been discovered in the fruit products laboratory of the University of California under the direction of Associate Professor W. V. Cruess. The most important of these, he announced recently, is a canned prune pulp of the consistency of apple butter, suitable for use in ice cream, pies and confectionery. The experiments have been carried on in co-operation with the California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association in order to develop new markets for the increasing prune crop of the State.

Moly (weary of sermon, in very audible whisper): "Mummy, if the church caught fire, would he stop then?" Punch.

Thirty-eight camps for boys and girls engaged in agricultural work were held in 1927 by the Agriculture Extension service of the University of California. B. H. Crocherson, director, in his annual report just made public, announces they were attended by 1,154 boys, 716 girls and 470 adults who were leaders and chaperones.

The prune plant at Colusa, Colusa county, is busy preparing a seven-car shipment of French prunes for Germany. Manager William Abreau said last week that it was likely that the shipment would be ready in a few days. The cars are being loaded with sacked fruit. One carload of case goods was scheduled to leave Colusa for San Francisco, where it will be consigned to Germany. Abreau expects more large orders will be forthcoming from Germany this year.

A diversion dam by means of which the waters of Deer Creek in the southeast section of Tehama county can be used to irrigate approximately 2,150 acres of land in the Vina section has just been completed and engineers are now surveying for the laterals and ditches to carry the water to the rich fruit and vegetable lands in the Deer Creek Irrigation District. Bonds in the sum of $25,000 were voted by the district several months ago, and of this money approximately $8,000 was used in construction of the dam. The balance will be used in completing the irrigation system. The dam is 145 feet long and is located near the mouth of Deer Creek where it empties into the Sacramento River.

The 1927 citrus crop of the upper San Gabriel Valley sold at approximately $7,000,000, which growers and shippers state is the largest local return in the history of the citrus industry. This figure does not include receipts for a few shipments that were made very late in the season and for which the figures are not available. Although the Valencia oranges were unusually small, the return was the greatest ever received. The combined cash returns from the associations of this district, which market through the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, was $5,993,390. The figures furnished by these associations are f. o. b., the packing and selling charges having been deducted.

Stockmen of the Southwest are still talking about the high prices realized at the public auction sale held in connection with the recent "Christmas Fat Stock Week" at Los Angeles Union Stock Yards, when a steer sold for $175 a pound on the hoof, the highest figure recorded west of the Rocky Mountains, and a fat lamb brought the record-breaking price of $5 a pound. Such prices, it is admitted, are only realized on "special" occasions of the kind when bidding for the "best that is" becomes some what of a "stunt" but the opinion is held that they reflect a new and increasing respect for fine meat animals in this part of the country, as well as the fact that Los Angeles is becoming a great meat center.

Pepper and pimento growers from all parts of Orange county met at Talbert recently to receive instructions on pepper weevil control from United States Department of Agriculture officials. The pepper growers' department of the Farm Bureau, headed by J. A. Knapp and R. N. Ellis, assistant farm adviser, is sponsoring a county-wide campaign to turn under all plants of the past season.
